Letter of recommendation

12.07.2010

Anton Danilov was part of Videobet, a subsidiary of Playtech Ltd, between January and August 2010. He was assigned the position of 3D graphic artist. As he was hired as a temporary replacement of an employee at the parental leave then he was offered only a fixed-term contract.

The cooperation with Anton proved Videobet that he has advanced skills in 3D design. He was given some of the most challenging tasks in modeling and animating the 3D characters of Videobet's casino games. He accomplished these tasks with great success and was able to meet the delivery requirements both from quality and schedule wise. In addition Anton's technical and creative skills provided the company many opportunities to increase the production capacity and pace.

As a person Anton is very cooperative and helpful, he adapts well to the team and accepts the supervision easily. The team leader finds working with him as a really pleasant and valuable experience.

Videobet definitely recommends hiring Anton Danilov for graphic designer and artist positions.
